

Local & Society

Earl Siples has changed the driveway into his "Earl's fryer ranch" retail store. Attractive cement blocks have been used to build a patio and wall off the business from the street.

Charles Martin of 5572 Vonnies Lane has been hospitalized in Artesia following reaction from a tetanus shot. He stuck a rose thorn in his finger which festered and failed to heal. He has been reported as very ill, but returned home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dwyer arrived for the holiday weekend to visit in the home of his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Will and family. The Dwyers are from Winner, South Dakota. The Wills live at 5622 Vonnies Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Holborow and children, Emil and aMrietta, and Mrs. Isabel McNellis watched the Fourth of July parade in Huntington Beach. This is the first year the children haven't taken part in a marching unit, and they enjoyed the spectacle to its fullest.

Although they didn't go away for the Fourth, the children in the Bill Robins' family had a big evening with plenty of fireworks. They missed their cousin, Charlie Arnold, however. Charlie and her mother, Mrs. Faye Rivera, went to Bass Lake to visit a month ago and are enjoying themselves so much they postpone coming home from week to week.

"Jeff" Jeffrey spent the holiday weekend at his father's place on the desert near Lancaster, where they are building a home.

Friends of Miss Elizabeth Dickerson will be sorry to learn that she entered St. Joseph's hospital in Orange Wednesday for major surgery Thursday morning.

Guests in the E. E. Goodman home this week have been her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne S. Cooper and daughter Patricia and son, Wayne Jr., of Independence, Missouri.

Guests in the Tom Demiris home, 8181 Gay st., on the Fourth were her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Svoboda of Los Angeles. They were accompanied by their son, Joe Savickas of Los Angeles and a daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Randa and son, Larry, Jr., of Cicero, Illinois, the world's largest suburb.

Rev. and Mrs. Howard returned home this weekend after a month's absence. They traveled 6,000 miles, attending a church conference in Kansas City and going also to Nashville, Tennessee and into Kentucky, where they were joined by Miss Gayle McCoy who returned with them, as well as Miss Altha Ludwig of Kansas City, daughter of the general secretary of Nazarene churches. The Howards' picked up their twin daughters in Lamar, Colorado. The girls were cared for by an aunt of his in Denver, Colorado.

Mrs. Don Davis went to Amarillo ad Tampa, Texas, to visit. She made the drive with friends, but was forced to return home a week earlier by herself because of the extreme heat. Temperatures hovered around the 100 degree mark, going to 110 and higher on some days.

Mrs. James Broadbelt was honor guest at a dinner in the home of Broadbelt's parents in Westchester last Friday evening. A juicy turkey browned to a turn over a recently completed barbecue pit turned the affair into an occasion.

Dn Norland is back at the Rainway Mfg. company, where he is allowed to work a few hours each day. He was forced into retirement over a year ago with a heart ailment.

Glenn Hubbard, 8121 Miller rd., spent a portion of last week in the mountains repairing the family's property from damages suffered in the heavy winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Dixon and their family spent the three-day holiday from business worries at home. They report a better time than if they had tried to go somewhere.

Mrs. E. Corby Is Hostess At Meeting

Mrs. Elmer V. Corby entertained members of the Cypress Woman's Community club in the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Boyd, at 5262 Bishop st., on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Corby was assisted in serving during the dessert course by the assistant hostesses, Mrs. Clarence Southfield, Mrs. Arden Hambly and Mrs. Burt Kroesen. Mrs. Boyd was a guest, and 22 members were present.

It was announced that the annual club picnic, to which members' families are invited, will be held this year at the A. E. Arnold's home, beginning at seven o'clock on the evening of August 12, the regular club meeting date. The meat course and coffee, cream and sugar will be furnished.

The group voted to sponsor Mrs. Jake Van Dyke's entry in the table setting contest at the Orange County fair this year. Mrs. Van Dyke was also winner of the mystery prize.

Invitation of the VFW auxiliary was accepted to sponsor a booth at the "block party" to be given on the evening of July 19. The community club members will sell soft drinks.

Want To Complain About Taxes? Now's The Time

County supervisors have started their two-week session as a board of equalization, to hear protests against property assessments for the new fiscal year.

Hearing has been set on one protest, that of the Southern Exploration Co. and the Signal Oil and Gas Co., objecting to payment of city taxes to Huntington Beach on wells being drilled in the ocean between Huntington Beach and Sunset Beach. Their objection also is before Superior court in a suit questioning the validity of annexation proceedings, by which the city annexed three miles of ocean area including the oil properties.

In the court action, the oil companies attack the annexation on various grounds, including the claim that they do not receive municipal services.

Supervisors set the hearing of the assessment protests for 1:45 p.m. next Tuesday.

Board of equalization sessions will continue until July 21, with daily meetings at 11 a.m.

Completion of budget hearings are scheduled Thursday of this week, it was announced.

ANGLING ANGLES BY Old Hi

Along about now many of us are getting ready for the fishing trips we'll be taking to lowland and mountain lakes and streams, and to the seashore, during the summer vacation period. What tackle and other equipment we decide to tote will largely affect the results of our angling ventures.

When heading for areas where sporting goods stores do not exist, you want to be mighty sure to have enough extra lines, leaders, hooks, sinkers, and lures so that wear, breakage, or loss won't ruin your sport. And an extra fly and bait casting rod and reel are also necessary.

A few suggestions may save you time, expense, and empty creels this season. For rough woods fishing, especially where streams are alder lined, you'll want a 4-section Mo-hawk steel telescope rod, with a low price level wind Lakeside reel and 9 or 12 pound test Gold Seal braided nylon line.

For general fly casting needs, take along an 8½ or 9-foot Governor-tonkin bamboo fly rod, single action National Sportsman fly reel, and two coils (50 yards) of Rainbow enameled silk line, oiled so it won't peel or crack. This will sort of be used as an extra outfit, for you'll want an 8½ foot tubular glass fly rod, Utica automatic reel, and 25 yards of Dry Flite nylon fly line for your "best" bass, trout, and panfish activities.

About 300 feet of Monel Metal line should be taken for deep trolling purposes, and a hank of linen line is needed for still fishing at baited bouys or handline trolling when you row a boat. Extra spools of cutty-hunk line are required if you troll or surf cast along the ocean beaches. One of the best is the Skirr Surf and Squidding line of braided nylon.

Into your tackle kit you'll want to tuck a few extra packages of snelled and ringed hooks of various sizes, common ringed and Saranac (pinch-on) sinkers, Cooper snap swivels, 3-way swivels, barrel swivels of different sizes, some chain ring swivels, treble hooks and split rings, and several packages of nylon leader material.

Besides these, find room for an assortment of feathered hook kidney and fluted spoons. Colorado spinners, June Bug spinners, nickel and copper trolling spoons, Red Flash wobblers, archer spinners for live minnows, Get-Fish lures, squid feather jigs, feathered bluefish jigs, and similar artificial baits. You'll have use for all of them as you travel over the country or along the seacoasts.

For details on what sizes of hooks to use for various Atlantic and Pacific Ocean inshore and deep sea fish, and other tackle, together with information on when, where, and how to catch the game fish, read Old Hi's free booklets called "Salt Water Sports Fishing" and "Pacific Coastal Fishing." Send a postcard request today to me, in care of this newspaper, and you'll get your copies about as fast as a bonefish can grab your bait.

At the same time ask for a copy of "Fishing For The Millions" for fresh water angling sport.

Two Women Injured In Freak Accident

Two motorists and two pedestrians were injured, one seriously, in an unusual traffic accident at Highway 39 and Crescent avenue, near Buena Park, late last Saturday.

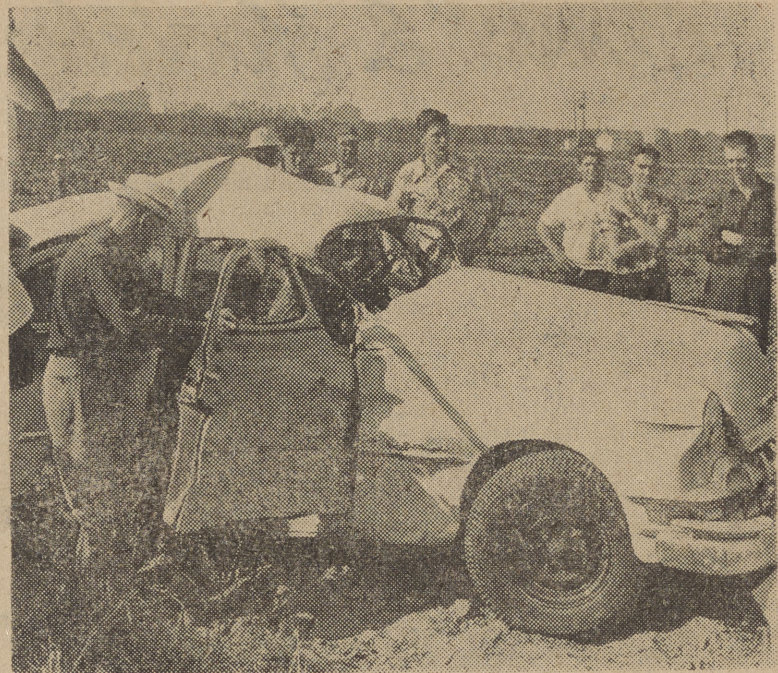

A car driven by Peter Hedlin, 32, of Los Angeles, struck another car operated by Wilber B. Harper, 57, of Long Beach, according to the California highway patrol. The Harper car was sent spinning, and struck two pedestrians, Mrs. Ruth Etchandy, 56, and her sister Mrs. Marine Robbins, 45, both of 8751 Crescent avenue.

Mrs. Etchandy was seriously injured and Mrs. Robbins received lesser hurts. Both are recovering well although still hospitalized. Harper and his wife, Goldie, 54, also were injured. All four were taken to Fullerton general hospital.

Officers are searching for an unidentified motorist whose car swerved across the center stripe of Highway 39 at First st., Stanton, Sunday evening and struck a car driven by Royal R. Mabry, 62, of Los Angeles. Mabry told officers that the other driver stopped only long enough to threaten him with a knife, then left the scene.

PLAN FELLOWSHIP DINNER

Members of the Garnet Howard chapter of the missionary society of the Nazarene church, will hold their annual "friendship" dinner next Tuesday evening. Each member brings a guest on this special occasion and an evening of fellowship is enjoyed.

PEDESTRIANS—were injured in a freak accident at the intersection of Crescent ave. and Highway 39 Saturday. The car shown, driven by W.B. Harper of Long Beach was struck by another car and sent careening into two Buena Park women, Mrs. Ruth Etchandy and her sister, Mrs. Marine Robbins who were walking along the road. Both were injured. —Quetschke photo

COUNTY COMMENT

By GEORGE E. HART

While American diplomats are shrinking from the calculated risk of a third World War in Korea, Orange county's two major water companies apparently are of different mettle. They seemingly are willing to risk a lawsuit with Riverside and San Bernardino county water interests by doing something to end the water salvage stalemate in Prado basin.

When Orange county's Board of Supervisors started the water salvage project, designed to save some 8000 to 12000 acre feet of water being wasted annually in Prado basin by evaporation, seepage and transpiration, Riverside and San Bernardino county interests feared that their own water levels in that vicinity might be lowered. They demanded a protective agreement—or else.

Perhaps it should be pointed out for the benefit of late arrivals, that the water supply of the Santa Ana river system is a mutual possession of the three counties. That water supply might be likened to a juicy bone sitting in the midst of three dogs, who growl and eye each other suspiciously as they watch it.

So the upriver interests felt that the Orange county dog might be edging too close to that bone, with the Prado salvage project. They began to growl about legal action if their part of the bone got gnawed.

Orange county interests wanted no dog fight. They didn't believe the Prado project would hurt anybody, and they were willing to say so in a legal agreement that would protect the other counties. The tri-county agreement was signed last year.

Meanwhile, the Orange County Supervisors had spent some $400,000 building pipeline under Prado dam, 1700 feet upstream into the basin, and 2500 feet down the river, to transport salvage water from the basin through the dam and down stream on its way to the Orange county spreading grounds near Yorba bridge.

The upriver interests remained wary, and Orange county didn't want to upset them, so nothing has been done about salvaging the water, while the other counties conduct tests to satisfy themselves that operations in Prado basin will not affect their own levels. The $400,000 investment in pipeline lies idle, and from 8000 to 12,000 acre feet of water still goes to waste every year when it might be applied toward Orange county's annual deficit.

When Orange county water interests grow restive and want something done with the pipeline, the County Supervisors point to that big club, the injunction suit, which the other counties carry, all poised and ready to swing. Question mark.

Evidently the Anaheim Union Water Co. and the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Co., which organized the Santa Ana River Development Co. to promote their water interests up the river, consider that a stalemate exists, and are willing to do something to see what will happen. The county is getting no water anyway, so what is there to lose? Except a lawsuit. And probably they think they might win that.

In any event, the Santa Ana River Development Co., which drilled a well in Prado basin last year but has refrained from pumping it, now intends to do so, and will drill three more wells, northerly along Chino creek, but still within Prado basin. The company has announced its intention of requesting permission from the County Supervisors to use the idle pipeline, to carry the water below Prado dam and into the Santa Ana river channel.

If they get away with this, maybe General Clark can bomb the Manchurian bases.

Permits Go Over Million $ Last Week

Orange county's unincorporated territory had more than a million dollar's worth of building last week, most of it in Garden Grove, where permits for 103 new homes were authorized, representing a valuation of $823,176. Total for the county's unincorporated area was $1,031,222.

Two large subdivisions in the Garden Grove area accounted for the big total there.

Buena Park's building total for the week was $13,720. Cypress had $9900, Stanton $5700.

Buena Park permits included three residences, costing $6200 each, for James A. Tippet at 5682, 5702 and 5712 Western ave., a $1200 residence addition for Jay L. Powell at 8812 Franklin st., and $120 in miscellaneous permits. Cypress permits included a $6400 duplex for L. F. Fanning at 9062 Watson st., and a $3500 drive-in cafe for J. W. Schmitt at 5062 Lincoln ave. Stanton permits included a $2000 residence addition for George Copsey, 10322 Flower st.; a $2000 permit for fire damage repairs for the Stanton Metal Products Co. at 10721 Stanton blvd.; a $1200 addition for William S. Barnett, 10741 Hanson ave. and $500 in miscellaneous permits.

Building totals by communities was as follows: Garden Grove $823,176, Anaheim $46,259, Costa Mesa $32,936, Ocean View $23,250, Tustin $16,400, Alamitos $14,760, Buena Park $13,720, Westminster $12,090, Cypress $9900, Capistrano Beach $8100, La Habra $7500, Stanton $5700, Santa Ana $5600, Yorba Linda $5200, Orange $3880, Los Alamitos $1000, Talbert $1000, miscellaneous $750.

Giant Speedometer Cuts Accidents

To make motorists conscious of speed limits, the Seattle, Wash. police department has put into operation a Powerglide Chevrolet with a precise speed clock mounted at the rear. Flashing red and amber lights on the giant exterior dial reflect the speed recorded by the car's speedometer. Police drive the car around the city an average of 90 miles a day and report it has reduced accidents appreciably. Two-way radio and a loudspeaker system to caution drivers are included.

DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL COMMITTEE ORGANIZES

Organizing its membership elected at the June primary, the Orange County Democratic Central committee met in Santa Ana Tuesday and elected Curtis Burrow of Santa Ana as chairman.

Burrow, a leading Kefauver adherent, succeeds James A. Walker of Orange who was not a candidate for the central committee this year.

Mrs. Emma Pellew of Anaheim was elected vice-chairman of the committee, succeeding Mrs. Sue Lowrey, of Fullerton. Mrs. Patricia Herzog of Santa Ana was named secretary, succeeding Martell Thompson of Orange. James Monroe, Santa Ana attorney, was elected treasurer of the committee, succeeding Charles Devine, union labor official. Buena Park's committeeman, Frank O'Brien, attended the meeting representing this area.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McCoid and his brother from a nearby town left Tuesday last week to drive to Kansas. They were called home by the serious illness of the men's mother, who is well along in years.
